

Ethan Baltazar of Palos Verdes Peninsula High School. He will be attending El Camino Community College and majoring in Geographic Information Science (GIS). He played for his high school football team for all four years, two of them in varsity, and plans to play at the college level.